

Anders S. Rosenbeck appointed new CEO of Tia Technology

Copenhagen, Denmark, 3 June 2019

The Board of Directors of Tia Technology has decided to appoint current COO Anders S. Rosenbeck as new CEO of Tia Technology. Anders assumes his new position starting on August 1, 2019.

Anders replaces Christian Kromann who, after three years as CEO, has decided to pursue new opportunities outside of Tia Technology. It is the Board of Directors' opinion that Christian Kromann has done an excellent job managing Tia Technology since May 2016, and the parties have jointly decided that Christian will continue to follow and support Tia's journey as a member of Tia's Board of Directors.

New leadership with deep understanding of the current Tia business

Continuing Tia Technology's corporate development, the Board of Directors is confident that by promoting Anders S. Rosenbeck to CEO, Tia gains a strong leader who is well positioned to steer the company and help support the insurance sector in years to come.

Anders has more than 10 years of experience from Tia and a total of 20+ years working with IT solutions in the financial industry. He has extensive experience from managing and delivering large projects and complex financial software solutions to global high demanding customers. During his tenure at Tia, Anders has been a key player in building up the Tia business and his strong relationships with Tia customers remain highly relevant for Tia Technology in the future.

Continued successful development of standardised software for the insurance industry

Tia Technology continues to have a unique position in the EMEA insurance industry and delivers a superior platform to accelerate growth from. Tia Technology has in recent years manifested its position as a leader within standardised software solutions with a re-ignited growth trajectory from winning new logos and extending their ability to service existing customers.

Tia Technology is highly committed to continue to deliver best-in-class industry software and to be the trusted partner for their existing and future customers. As the adaptation rate of standardised software among insurance players is increasing, Tia Technology is preparing for the next phase of its corporate development.
